Beads can come from many different sources. The best beads are (in my opinion) from Toho or Miyuki. Gather more than enough beads for a project, and don't be afraid to buy a few extra. This list gives a starting point for some of the bead specialty companies with online stores. I am not affiliated with any of these companies, and have only purchased from a few of them.

In addition to online resources, look in your community for local bead shops. In San Francisco, we have General Bead, and it's a fun journey back in time to the 1960s every time I walk through their door.
